Cable Car

Refurbished in March, 2019, this Swiss made cable car takes visitors to Koyasan straight from Gokurakubashi Station. Scaling the 340m to Koyasan in only 5 minutes, the cable car is a favorite of many who come to visit. The large windows allow for delightful scenic views in every season as visitors climb up the mountain.

Temple Lodging

A staple in the Koyasan experience is being able to savor a mystical night in a Buddhist temple. Out of the 117 temples in Koyasan, 52 of them offer lodging to guests. These temples are known as Shukubo. Each one offers its own uniqueness with beautiful gardens and esteemed cultural treasures. Attending morning ceremonies as well as partaking in Buddhist vegetarian cuisine is a charm only Koyasan can offer.

Shoujin Ryouri

Buddhist vegetarian cuisine, also known as Shoujin Ryouri, was developed from Buddhism teaching its followers to not take the life of another living thing. In Koyasan today, vegetarian cuisine can be eaten when staying overnight at a temple, making for an authentic experience. This elaborate vegetarian cuisine incorporates authentic preparation of the five flavors, colors and seasonal delights which are not only good for the body, but for the mind and soul as well.
